Leggett & Platt Storage Products Group Announces Additions to Key Management Positions

COVINGTON, GA, January 18, 2006 – Leggett & Platt Storage Products Group, a leading provider of comprehensive storage solutions with global resources unmatched in the industry, announces the following executive additions to help lead its family of storage products companies in U.S. and Mexico:

Enrique Alanis, Plant Manager: Monterrey, Mexico

Enrique joins Leggett & Platt SPG with over thirteen years of plant experience, with a focus on lean manufacturing, quality systems control and continual cost improvement. As manager of a 500-worker plant, his previous experience has called on his ability to effectively implement new procedures and processes based on global plant management knowledge and resources. Enrique has previously held both management and ownership positions with Biotest. Prior to Biotest, he gained valuable plant experience with Vigo Imports P.O.P., Hussmann American, Ender and GE Lighting Mexico, where he completed the highly respected 6 Sigma Program. Enrique has received several professional degrees, as well as diplomas in Quality Control and System Design, including ISO9000 standards, with I.M.E.C.C.A.

Steve Schwartz, General Manager of ISS

Steve joins Leggett & Platt SPG from Harmony Group in Macon, GA where he was general manager of multiple divisions during his 10-year tenure with the company. A leader with a passion for growth and innovation, Steve has proven results through integrated planning, operations and sales strategies. Steve's achievements include enhancing profits through targeted sales strategies, increasing customer satisfaction with enhanced service and implementing operating efficiencies that improved capacity over 3 times while controlling costs. Prior to joining Harmony Group, Steve served as treasurer and vice president of finance and administration for LTG Technologies, Inc. Steve is a graduate of Syracuse University in Syracuse, NY and earned a MBA from Pace University.

Lucia Suarez, Controller of Leggett & Platt SPG

Lucia brings over 16 years of administrative and financial management experience with manufacturing and design companies to SPG. Previously, she was the controller at Drivedesign where she managed the financial reporting and accounting functions in the design beverage industry. Prior to Drivedesign, she was the finance director with the MZM Group, where she led the finance and IT areas from 2001 to 2004. Additionally, Lucia's experience in due diligence, financial statement preparation and financial analysis will help support SPG's financial communication and decision making processes. Lucia holds a CPA and has held multiple international financial management positions with Price Waterhouse Coopers in Mexico City, Buenos Aires and Guadalajara.
